United Visual, Inc Announces The Addition of Ken Moon as Senior Manager of Global Market Development.

November 16, 2009 Itasca, Ill. – United Visual, Inc., an industry leader in professional audio and video systems integration today announced the addition of Ken Moon as Senior Manager of Global Market Development. In the newly created role Ken will be tasked with leading United Visual's business development strategies as they relate to visual and unified communications solutions. This includes direct sales, new business development, network provisioning, sales and technical support, consulting and development of strategic partnerships.

Ken comes to United Visual, Inc. with over 18 years experience in videoconferencing and telecommunications industry. Most recently Ken served as the President and CEO of CamSys Communications. Ken founded CamSys and built the company up to over $15M in revenues before he negotiated the sales of the company in June of 2009. CamSys was an endpoint-to-endpoint high-end video conferencing and telecommunications VAR and systems integrator with thousands of videoconferencing end points deployed globally.

“Ken brings us a vast knowledge of network technologies, telepresence, visual and unified communications solutions,” said Daniel Newman, Vice President of Sales and Business Development for United Visual, Inc. “Ken is a tremendous addition to our team. He has a diverse understanding of how to apply technology to solve business problems, this will bring immediate benefit to every current and potential client that United Visual serves.”

United Visual, Inc. has been active and influential in the region since their inception over 60 years ago and is ranked in the top 50 System Integrators in the nation by SCN magazine. Today, United Visual provides technology solutions to over a thousand Corporate, Education, and Government clients around the globe. Recent completed projects include a 2009 ProAV Spotlight Award winning system integration project for The Illinois College of Optometry in Chicago, IL.
